

Monitoring forest project

The monitoring system project allows you to take high quality pictures everyday in a hostile environment.

Concepted to monitor a forest in Gabon, this system is built to work in autonomy for a long period with the use of solar energy.

It can also send data by radio to give you the best monitoring conditions thanks to its HMI.

